Odes from Mrs. Aasen's English Classes

Ode to Beach

*The ocean tides are moving in and out
The wet sand slides over and through my toes
The seagulls fly over and around my head
On the horizon dolphins jump up and down Without warning the sun sinks under the water.*

Ode to Music

*It's a joy to hear
The different sounds
And different melodies
There's something for everyone Mad, sad, happy, or funny
It cheers you up or Brings you down
Harmonies
Go to your heart
Lyrics
Opens your ears
From country, soul, to rock and roll
The surprises never stop Like when I'm in a shoe and purse shop My love for music will never stop*

ODE to Flowers

Flowers the beauty of nature so sweet smelling pleasing to my senses.

Can be found in meadows and in ditches, Anyplace they are found they are sure to be admired.

Roses, Violets, Petunias, Marigolds
Zinnias, Lilacs, Daisies, and Carnations Bloom very pretty in the spring for a very short time once a year.

When many things are about to begin the flowers are there to brighten their lives.

Flowers are sort of like people they are different from each other.
Each has their own special trait some are pretty, some are ugly some are pink, some are purple some are tall, some are short.
But all have one thing in common they were planted on Earth for living things to enjoy.
